EDUCATION COUNSELING & GUIDANCE	VA Chapter 35 Education Benefits: Survivors' and Dependents' Educational Assistance Program	Lee Miller WWMP Point of Contact Reggie Washburn DVA	Survivors' and Dependents' Educational Assistance add Public Law 109-461, VA is a program managed by the Department of Veterans Affairs that provides up to 45 months of educational benefits to children and spouses of disabled veterans and surviving family members of deceased veterans. The recipients can use the benefit for many different educational experiences and the VA may approve even non-traditional courses under certain circumstances. To be eligible for the Survivors' and Dependents' Educational Assistance Program you must be the spouse, child, stepchild or adopted child of a veteran (living or deceased) who was rated as permanently and totally disabled. Children and spouses of service members who are missing in action or are captured and being held by a hostile force are eligible for DEA. The spouse can apply and, when accepted, begin 45 months of college at $1,137.00 per month. The program covers part time attendance, on line, or face-to-face on campus classes. It also covers those who have a degree and want graduate school or other advanced education. TO APPLY: Contact Lee Miller who will assist in applying. Once the application is complete, the package goes to Mr. Reggie Washburne at the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) office at WRNMMC Bethesda, Building 11, Room 165. Mr Washburne will review the application, attach the medical records and forward the application to the VA. A copy of the birth certificate of the spouse and a copy of the marriage license is required to accompany the application. This process is a VA special exemption for seriously injured WW's. The law has been amended to include eligible spouses and children whose WII are healing at Walter Reed and are expected to be rated 100% disabled by the DoD or VA PEB.	mlmiller58@verizon.net	301 601-2733 Cell: 240-620-5019

JOBS	Entrepreneurship Bootcamp	Katherine Frontino , National Program Manager, Adam Jones (AJ) Florkowski Institute for Veterans and Military Families Syracuse University, 700 University Avenue, Suite303,Syrscuse, NY13244-2530	Entrepreneurship Bootcamp for Veterans with Disabilities (The EBV Program) offers cutting edge, experiential training in entrepreneurship and small business management. The EBV is designed to open the door to business ownership for veterans by 1) developing skills in the many steps and activities associated with launching and growing a small business, and by 2) leveraging programs and services for veterans and people with disabilities. The veteran must have an idea/opportunity identified upon which to develop a business plan during the nine day "Bootcamp" (11 hours a day) at one of the major business schools participating in the EBV Program. After application and two letters of recommendation, the veteran completes some on-line modules on entrepreneurship prior to going to the nine day "Bootcamp" at one of the six major university business schools around the country. The veteran is then put on orders from their WTU. All travel, meals, and lodging is paid for by the EVB Program while the veteran prepares a business plan. Upon completion of the "Bootcamp." The veteran receives one year of free legal advice and the assistance of an entrepreneurship Professor from the business school attended. If spouses are involved in the chosen business, they can also attend the EBV Program but not at the same time as the veteran. Any veteran interested in the EVB Program should contact Lee Miller who will assist in the application process and refer the veterans to the previous graduates of the EBV Program for guidance and information. The schools involved in the EBV Program are Syracuse University, Purdue University, UCLA, Texas A&M, Louisiana State University, Florida State University, and UCONN. The veteran will be sent to the Program based on a schedule of availability established by the Program Manager.	wjflorko@syr.edu evbinfo@syr.edu. http://whitman.syr.edu	AJ (315) 443-6007; Cell: 315-459-1749 Lee Miller: 301.601.2733; Cell: 240.620.5019

An internship program for wounded, ill, and injured service members who are convalescing at military treatment facilities across the United States. It is designed to provide recuperating service members with meaningful activity outside of the hospital environment that assists in their wellness and offers a formal means of transition back to the civilian workforce. Open to Active Duty, National Guard and Reserve components, Operation Warfighter represents a great opportunity for service members in a medical hold status to build their resumes, explore employment interests, develop job skills, and gain valuable federal government work experience that will prepare them for the future. The program simultaneously enables participating federal agencies to avail themselves of the considerable talent and dedication of these recuperating service members. This group is also tied to the Education and Employment Initiative (E2I) group whose office is collocated with the Operation Warfighter Group. Both are under James Rodriguez--DASD Wounded Warrior Care & Transition Office. OWF gets the WII WW's into internships and then the E2I Program assists the WW in getting a job in stovepiped positions related to the internship around the country. GENERAL ASSISTANCE	OPERATION SECOND CHANCE	Cindy McGrew President & Founder OSC	Operation Second Chance offers an unparalleled range of services guided by the founding principle that we treat wounded warriors and their loved ones as if they were our own family. We believe in providing assistance to our troops and their families on the ground where the greatest need exists and where OSC's support will have the greatest impact. Our ability to quickly assist with these needs is why the staff from our military hospitals reach out to us for help daily. OSC assistance includes everything from airline tickets to daily family support such as a baby stroller or diapers and formula. Whatever the need, we do what we can to help wounded warriors and their families as if they were our own. OSC may be able to help you and your loved ones obtain air travel to or from military health care facilities. If you do not meet the criteria for eligibility of military travel benefits but have a compelling need to be with your loved one, we may be able to assist. Other situations where we might be able to assist with travel include special circumstances, one-way flights, and urgent or short notice flights. OSC can also assist with your daily needs while you are at the hospital. If you need something that is unavailable at the hospital or need assistance off base/post, we might be able to help. For any of these special requests please contact: assistance@operationsecondchance.org.	cindy@operationsecondchance.org, http://www.operationsecondchance.org	301 938-2834
